

Dear Hiring Manager:

We employed Lanxin Zheng to work on our OnTask project via the University of Sydney's Capstone Project subject. Whilst a student at the time and part of a team of developers, Lanxin could adapt to the project requirements and learn new technologies to sufficiently contribute to a successful proof-of-concept for a mobile application with cloud infrastructure and server-side components.

Lanxin is an intelligent and motivated individual and is more than capable of working on their own or within a team. In addition, Lanxin is a confident person and always completes set tasks on time.

Feel free to contact me at mosabdullah@icloud.com should you like further information regarding Lanxin.

Yours Sincerely,

Muhammad Abdullah
